USPA NEWS - Field Marshal Asim Munir’s Peace Initiative Between USA & Iran Applauded by Qaisar Sheikh

Field Marshal Asim Munir’s Peace Initiative Between USA & Iran Applauded by Qaisar Sheikh Qaisar Sheikh Federal Minister in the Government of Pakistan a senior parliamentarian and philanthropist has praised a reported peace initiative led by Pakistan Army Chief Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir’s efforts aimed at easing tensions between the United States and Iran. This is a very serious global concern over the ongoing war between the two nations.

The efforts by Pakistan’s Military Chief Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir is a significant step toward global peace, said Shazada Hayat President UICF (UK) and international community welfare campaigner.

The initiative reflects Pakistan’s emerging role as a mediator at a time when the international community has struggled to bring the two sides to the negotiating table. The conflict between the United States and Iran, now entering its fourth week, has resulted in the loss of civilian lives and widespread catastrophic destruction.

Beyond the immediate human toll, the war has had far-reaching consequences for the global economy, said Shazada Hayat. Pakistan’s Federal Minister Qaiser Ahmed Sheikh said, Trade, commerce, and industry have all been severely disrupted, with supply chains strained and international markets experiencing instability.

As soon as the much-needed peace is achieved this will boost foreign investment into Pakistan. As Pakistan will clearly show the world that it is a peace-loving nation that offers excellent opportunities to be investors. Whilst it is sad but a well-known fact, that every crisis also produces opportunities. Therefore, we must always be optimistic and positive. The continuing hostilities have placed immense pressure on global trade systems, with import and export activities declining sharply.

I wish to warn the economic superpowers that the economic fallout is increasingly affecting ordinary people and their families around the world; many of whom are already facing financial hardship, as a result of rising costs and reduced economic activity and now faced by austerity. Qaiser Sheikh said, The initiative taken by Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir is historic and a monumental effort to prevent further escalation, to bring an end a war with severe consequences for the rest of the world.

The conflict has pushed the global economy toward a state of panic and continued escalation, which could risk a much larger international crisis and even a nuclear Third World War. Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir has made a direct interaction and leadership of taking an unprecedented step by engaging directly with both Washington and Iran.

The initiative reportedly includes efforts of the decision makers of Untied States and Iran to Islamabad for mediated peace talks. The proposed discussions for mediation therefore have to involve high-level officials, including representatives from the United States and Iran, in order to attempt and to negotiate the ceasefire and lay the groundwork for a lasting resolution and end to the destructive war. Recent developments have raised cautious optimism. President Donald Trump announced a temporary halt in hostilities on Monday this week, a move that was reported by the world’s leading press media The Financial Times, which stated, that it was Pakistan’s Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir’s telephone call to US President Donald Trump on the weekend urging and appealing to the US President to cease all hostilities against Iran. It has been suggested that direct communication between Pakistan’s Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir and President Donald Trump played a crucial and encouraging role for the pause in the conflict, and opening the door to dialogue.

Federal Minister Qaiser Sheikh emphasized that the world has largely been unable to stop the conflict, increasing fears that it could spiral into a broader war if a solution was not found and addressed immediately. He warned that continued escalation could have catastrophic consequences, including the risk of Nuclear World War Three. The Federal Minister Qaiser Sheikh said, We have full confidence that Pakistan’s Supreme Military Commander Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir’s efforts will succeed where others have failed. Furthermore, the prayers and hopes of people around the world are now focused on Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir to achieve resounding success of achieving peace between the United States and Iran for world order, through this initiative.

That a successful outcome would not only end the current conflict, but also reinforce Pakistan's position as a nation committed to promoting global stability and cooperation. In conclusion Qaiser Sheikh said, As preparations for potential talks continue, the international community remains watchful. Many hope that diplomatic engagement in Islamabad could mark the beginning of de-escalation and bring relief to millions affected by the conflict.

This, will prevent further loss of life and devastating economic damage. The role of Pakistan Prime Minister Mian Shehbaz Sharif throughout has been outstanding to say the least. Shazada Hayat said, The leadership of the United States and Iran must seek this opportunity as this is a defining moment in history, where humanity must choose peace over destruction.

The initiative led by Field Marshal Syed Asim Munir is not just a diplomatic effort, but a moral responsibility to save future generations from the horrors of war. The leadership of the United States and Iran must embrace this opportunity with open arms, courage and wisdom. As failure to do so could push the world toward an irreversible catastrophe. Through sincere dialogue in Islamabad, a lasting ceasefire and the end to the war can be achieved. This will bring an end to suffering and restore stability, while positioning Pakistan as a beacon of peace for the world,
